Selective bibliography of Isaac Deutscher (1907-1967)

Survey:

- Some introductory remarks
  - Books/pamphlets (co-) authored by Deutscher
  - Books and newspapers (co-)edited by Deutscher
  - Books, collections, journals, newspapers, bulletins to which Deutscher contributed
  - Books and articles by Deutscher on Trotsky and Trotskyism
  - Books about Deutscher
  - Articles and web sites about Deutscher
  - Reviews of Deutscher's Trotsky trilogy
- Some introductory remarks

As we stated in the Biographical sketch, Isaac Deutscher was undoubtedly among the most productive Marxist/Trotskyist writers. We should like to emphasize that we do not at all claim 'completeness' with regard to our following Selective Bibliography. Although listing a veritable amount of literature by and about Deutscher, it must be said clearly that a considerable number of sources have not been considered here, for example

– many of the translations<sup>1</sup> of Deutscher's books and contributions into non-Western

<sup>1</sup> Most of Deutscher's writings listed here were originally written and published in English; however, a considerable number of them have been translated into other Western European languages (French, German, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Danish, Swedish, Norwegian, etc.) – most of them have been considered here. Some of his books and other writings, however, were published in other languages (such as for example in Polish, Finnish, Hungarian, Serbo-Croatian, Yiddish, Hebrew, Turkish, Farsi, Chinese and Japanese) – those translations have been omitted here, with a very few exceptions.

European languages;

- later editions, except occasional references made in bibliographical footnotes (in square brackets);
- most of his writings from the pre-War Polish period (because they were lost);
- non-print media (electronic resources, videos, records of radio broadcasts, etc.)

As far as we know there is no Deutscher bibliography which could claim completeness. At the time being, we can refer to three selective bibliographical compilations:

- Deutscher, Tamara: On the bibliography of Isaac Deutscher's writings, in: Isaac Deutscher - the man and his work / ed. by David Horowitz, London, 1971, pp. 226-247 (on pp. 235-247: Selected bibliography)
- Syré, Ludger: Bibliographie, in: Syré, Ludger: Isaac Deutscher : Marxist, Publizist, Historiker, Hamburg, 1984, pp. 400-410
- Casciola, Paolo: Isaac Deutscher : bibliografia italiana, in: Deutscher, Isaac: L'uomo socialista / [trad. dall'orig. inglese a cura di Paolo Casciola], Foligno, 1994, pp.21-22.

The following are some notes for a better understanding of certain peculiarities of our Selective Bibliography:

1. In the sub-paragraph Books/pamphlets (co-)authored by Deutscher we have – as a rule – omitted author's name from the author statement area of the title records whenever Deutscher is the single author of a book, regardless whether his name is spelled "Isaac Deutscher", "I. Deutscher", or "Izaak Deutscher" on the title page or cover, unless he is one of two or three authors of a work or if he used a pseudonym.
2. In the sub-paragraphs Books and newspapers (co-)edited by Deutscher and Books, collections, journals, newspapers, bulletins to which Deutscher contributed, works to which he contributed and which at the same time were (co-)edited by him, have been listed in both sub-paragraphs.
3. The sub-paragraph Books, collections, journals, newspapers, bulletins to which Deutscher contributed does not list Deutscher's contributions to collective works, encyclopaedias, journals, newspapers, bulletins etc. by the distinctive titles proper but by source title only (i.e. by title proper of the journal, newspaper, collection or the like)<sup>1</sup>. It goes without saying that a fairly complete repertory of such contributions – particularly of his articles which appeared in the daily and weekly press – remains a great desideratum for the future.
4. The sub-paragraph Reviews of Deutscher's Trotsky trilogy is far from claiming completeness faced with the fact that there are some 500 reviews relating to Deutscher's Trotsky<sup>1</sup>.

5. The sub-paragraph Books and articles by Deutscher on Trotsky and Trotskyism includes some doublings with regard to other sub-paragraphs.

6. TSB item numbers (e.g. "<TSB 0716>") refer to our Trotskyist Serials Bibliography (München [etc.], 1993), which is out of print but is available as PDF file within the framework of our Lubitz TrotskyanaNet website. In TSB you find detailed informations about Trotskyist journals, newsletters, bulletins and the like.

Note: More informations about Deutscher are likely to be found in some of the books, pamphlets, university works, articles, etc. listed in the relevant chapter of our Trotsky Bibliography, 3. ed., München [etc.], 1999, e.g. in chapter 9. Deutscher's work has also been discussed in the bio-bibliographical miscellany about Pierre Broué, published within the framework of our Lubitz TrotskyanaNet website.

Note on archives

In 1977, ten years after his death, Isaac Deutscher's considerable archive was acquired by the International Institute of Social History (IISH) (Internationaal Instituut voor Sociale Geschiedenis, IISG), Amsterdam, The Netherlands. There are no restrictions with regard to the consultation of this collection (7.35 m). An inventory list of the Isaac Deutscher Papers, period 1929-1967 (-1972) in English language, prepared by Hermien van Veen in 1998 and updated in June 2005, is available on-line:

<http://www.iisg.nl/archives/en/files/d/10748983full.php>

The Deutscher papers are comprising chiefly of:

— his correspondence from 1947 to 1967, partly arranged alphabetically within various spans of time and partly by addressees (altogether 120 folders). The correspondence contains letters received from and sent to e.g. Ernest Mandel, Bertrand Russell, Edward Hallett Carr, Daniel Guérin, Heinrich Brandler, Natalia Sedova, Alfred Rosmer, Tamara (his wife) and Martin Charles Deutscher (his son), as well as Deutscher's correspondence with his publishers (e.g. with Oxford University Press) and literary agents. This section also contains correspondence related to the Trotsky trilogy, accounts and documents related to his work as correspondent for The Economist, The Observer and The Reporter, including some typescripts of articles;

— the original manuscripts, drafts, notes and fragments relating to his books Stalin, Trotsky, Ironies of history, The unfinished revolution, Marxism in our time, The Non-Jewish Jew and other essays, etc. (altogether some 30 portfolios);

— typescripts of miscellaneous writings including public lectures and broadcasts (altogether 6 archive boxes);

— various personal documents (autobiographical items, financial documents, calendars, notebooks, etc.) (altogether 10 folders and portfolios);

— manuscripts by others (6 folders);

— documents relating to various conferences and teach-ins as well as to the International War Crimes Tribunal (Russell Tribunal), 1966-67;

— a 'documentation', chiefly book review cuttings from newspapers and journals relating to his published works (including reviews published after Deutscher's death), obituaries and similar articles.

It should be mentioned that Deutscher's correspondence with H. Brandler has been published; that also applies to 21 letters by Leon Trotsky to various of his followers (dating from 1931 to 1938) forming part of the Deutscher collection.

Many other archivalia (letters, etc.) relating to Deutscher are to be found also in the archival collections of some Trotskyists mentioned and described within the Research facilities : Archives paragraph of our Lubitz TrotskyanaNet.
